

Rear Suspension Stabilizer

- A highly rigid, solid type stabilizer bar is used.
- A ball-joint type stabilizer link is used to ensure excellent response and rigidity.

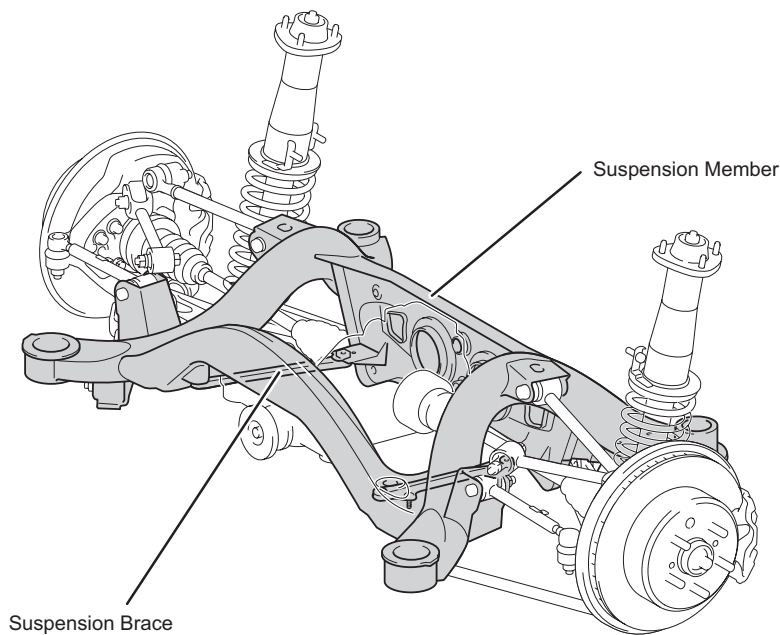

A4270047C

SA

Rear Suspension Member

- A rear suspension member shaped like a # is used.
- Its components consist of pipes and stamped sheet steel to ensure the proper torsional rigidity and weight reduction.
- The positions of the body mounts have been optimized and a suspension brace has been provided to ensure the proper support rigidity and excellent drivability and stability.

A4270048C