■ FRAME

- The side rail uses a heavy plate and features a large cross section, and the reinforcements are efficiently allocated along the side rail. This ensures high lateral bending rigidity and achieves excellent driving stability.
- Fully closed cross section structure and large cross section side rails are used for a highly rigid frame.
- The high torsional rigidity suppresses cabin vibration, providing excellent riding comfort.

08LBO002Y