2. Rear Seat

- The design and stitching pattern of the rear seats have been changed.
- On double cab models, folding headrests are used for the rear seats to ensure rearward visibility when no passengers are in the rear seats.
- Tundra CrewMax uses folding headrests for the rear seats. Also, a tip-up type seat cushion and flat floor are used in order to enable the user to load large luggage in the cabin. On the other hand, the sliding function and reclining function have been discontinued.
